

Bald Eagles Nesting at the Honeoye Lake Sewage Treatment Plant

The pictures above were taken by Ontario County's Pat Quinlan of the Honeoye Lake Sewer District. These bald eagles are 'keeping watch' over the sewage treat plant. They built a nest this past spring in a tree along the banks of an outlet just downstream of the plant. There are no signs of any chicks yet!